LEI OF MEMORIES

*Fingers stringing blossoms,
Blossoms wet with dew,
Here's a lei of memories
I've strung for you.*

*Petals pure and perfect,
Blossoms slightly torn,
Here's a lei of memories
My heart has worn.*

*Though you go far away,
Far across the sea,
Where you go, wear this lei
And think sometimes of me.*

*Tender, fragrant blossoms
Fade, as blossoms do;
May this lei of memories
Stay fresh for you.*

Dedication

The 1961 Na Hoa Pono wishes to recognize and pay tribute to Professor Robert Laird, chairman of the Department of Elementary Education at the Church College of Hawaii.

Professor Laird came to C.C.H. in the fall of 1959. In the time he has been here, besides directing the training program for elementary teachers at the college, he has been a class adviser and has served as personnel co-ordinator for the Campus Branch, Oahu Stake, Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. He is a good husband and the father of five active children.

In spite of his many responsibilities, Brother Laird is always willing to listen to the problems, complaints, and accomplishments of the many students on campus.

Whether teaching in a classroom, counseling a student, or conducting a Campus Branch meeting, Brother Laird has always exemplified the type of faculty member the Church College of Hawaii is proud to have.

Therefore it is with deep appreciation and fond aloha for all of his efforts that the staff dedicates the 1961 Na Hoa Pono to him.

May this lei of memories stay fresh and beautiful with you, Brother Laird.

Administration

"...Now hear this..." These short, but familiar words drown out the echo of the 10 o'clock bell still ringing down the corridors and introduce the voice of administration stating activities of the day—thus unfolding to us memories in the making.

Pacific Board of Education

President Wendell B. Mendenhall
Chairman

Dr. Owen J. Cook
Executive Secretary

The men who sit on the Pacific Board of Education have the responsibility for the administration of all of the schools and colleges that the L.D.S. Church has in the Pacific. These include, in addition to the Church College of Hawaii, schools in American Samoa, New Zealand, and Tonga. Matters of school policy, new buildings and equipment, school budgets, and teachers' salaries are among the problems handled by the Board.

The President's Advisory Board is composed of church and business leaders who advise the college president on matters and policies affecting the welfare of the Church College of Hawaii. These men are keenly interested in the problems of C.C.H. and spend much time advising the president and promoting the activities and programs of the college.

President's Message

PRESIDENT RICHARD T. WOOTTON

Our aloha pumehana to the hard-working and talented yearbook editors and staff for a production highlighting another happy year of progress by The Church College of Hawaii. All who will enjoy this book now and in years to come, looking back fondly and wistfully, owe gratitude for those who produced it for them.

Each year at the College has seemed most notable: the first for its many "firsts," for "pioneering"; the second for labor missionary progress on the new building; the third for an influx of students from the South Seas and Mainland; the fourth for completion of the new $5 million campus, its dedication by President McKay, and our moving into its many splendid buildings; and the fifth for a doubling of enrollment, receiving full accreditation as a junior college, and starting a four-year program.

Now, the sixth, your year, was marked by over-crowded and temporary dormitories, which you endured as good sports. The expansive new dormitories were under construction, to be complete before the next year. We also awarded our first baccalaureate degrees. But the shiniest satellite you helped us launch was accreditation as a four-year college by the Western College Association.

Your yearbook chronicles well the many events, both trying and joyful, which helped make this one of the best years of your life.

And it has been a great year for many, because the College drove forward fulfilling its destiny as you gained vocational competence, appreciation of America's ways for freedom and justice, and testimonies of the gospel with desire to spread the truth in the world.

You, as part of its destiny, will always be part of the College. I pray that its soul-saving and joy-giving teachings may also ever be part of you.

Here's to the faculty,
Scholars all,
Who rose early in the morning
And worked till nightfall,
Advising, revising, correcting, preaching;
And some even found time to do
A little teaching.

Student Government

This 1960-1961 school year will go down as one of the most important in Church College of Hawaii's history, not only because we were here, but because of the accomplishments we made. To all of those who planned, worked, participated, advised, or directed any of the many student activities, may I say, "Thank you" and "Mahalo."

I hope that all of you can say that this year has helped you to grow academically, spiritually, socially, physically, or any other way that is beneficial. If you did receive some benefit, I hope that you will share it with whomever you meet the rest of your lives. Above all, I hope that none of us can say that we missed our opportunity to make this year and this C.C.H. experience the most memorable and the happiest of our lives.

"Tender, fragrant blossoms fade,
As blossoms do.
May this Lei of Memories,
May this year at C.C.H.
Stay fresh with you—forever."

Sincerely,

Activities

Whether it be the annual Preference Ball, an outing to Goat Island, or a trip to the Welfare Farm, the activities of the year provided lasting memories.

Campus Branch

Branch Presidency

How near to the angels were the inspiring meeting and activities conducted by our Campus Branch of the Oahu Stake of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. From the opening chords of Sunday School through sacrament meeting, relief society, priesthood, MIA, welfare farm work days, and Sunday night firesides, Campus Branch was a great source of inspiration and guidance and a great force for spiritual and personal growth and development.

In the short six years of its existence, the Church College of Hawaii has gained a reputation as a missionary school. Every year from its halls missionaries go out into the world to preach and teach the truths of the L.D.S. religion.

The school year 1960-1961 was no exception: Church College provided several missionaries to serve the cause of the church.

Students of Church College recall with fond "aloha" these schoolmates who have gone out into the world to spread the gospel.

Student Body Committees

The Social Committee planned and directed social activities for the student body. Dances, parties, movies, get-togethers at the beach, and fun nights at the pool and in the gymnasium provided opportunities for Church College students to share many enjoyable and memorable experiences together.

The Election Committee directed all elections for campus offices. Theirs was the sometimes monotonous and time-consuming task of guarding the ballot box and recording votes; but they also enjoyed the stimulating excitement of counting the ballots and being the first to know who had won in a close race.

Student body assemblies on each Thursday were under the direction of the Assembly Committee. Members of this committee scheduled, planned, coordinated, and directed all student body programs held throughout the school year.

This exclusively male organization wound up the year with a number of noteworthy accomplishments behind it. Probably the longest to be remembered and most satisfying was the A.M.S.-sponsored Barn Dance, an annual affair, which this year featured a complete Western-style dinner along with three hours of lively dancing. The Hawaiian luau in November and the A.M.S.-A.W.S. tennis tournament were also very successful.

Not to be outdone, the Associated Women Students also had a year of varied activities and accomplishments.

To start the year off, the A.W.S. sponsored a Big Sister program, which provided many new students pleasant introductions to Church College. Other successful activities were the A.W.S. picnic for the faculty women and the Easter fashion show. All of these activities were eclipsed, however, by the Preference Ball, to which each member of the organization escorted her special "Kuuipo."

Although fewer in numbers than during some years previously, the Church College Choir of 1960–1961 was a stimulating source of inspiration and enjoyment for all who heard them.

Under the leadership of Professor Joseph H. Spurrier, the Choir presented a pre-Christmas Concert on December 15 and a spring Choir Concert on May 26. In addition, the Choir performed at several student assemblies and, in a public relations gesture, appeared at a number of high schools in the surrounding area.

The Church College Band, under the direction of Professor Eugene Stoddard, provided the faculty, students, and friends of the Church College of Hawaii with many enjoyable and thrilling moments.

Highlight of Autumn Semester was the thrilling experience of playing for the Brigham Young University–University of Hawaii football game on November 25 at Honolulu Stadium. Then on December 9 the band presented a “pops” concert. Basketball season brought thrills from the band music played as well as from the games. And the climax of a full and enjoyable year was the big Band Show on March 31.

Polynesian

Through its annual Polynesian Panorama, held at the Kaiser Dome in Honolulu in March and repeated in April, the Church College of Hawaii Polynesian Institute provided residents of and visitors to Hawaii with an authentic glimpse of the traditional dances and songs of the people of the Pacific islands. Proceeds from this presentation, in which ninety-five Church College students participated, are being used to help pay the educational expenses of students from the South Pacific areas.

First dramatic performance of the school year was "The Late Christopher Bean" by Sidney Howard, presented November 18 and 19.

The play tells of the paintings of an obscure artist whose work since his death has become famous and of the mercenary efforts of many different types of people to get hold of his paintings. The selfless love of Abby for Christopher Bean emerges triumphant, however, and justice and right receive their reward at the end of the play.

The setting of the play is rural New England in the present.

"Angel Street" by Patrick Hamilton was presented by the Church College Theater Group on February 17 and 18.

It is the story of a murderer's attempts to obtain the jewels he killed for years before and of how his efforts are thwarted by a quick-thinking detective of the Sherlock Holmes variety. Having purchased the house in which he committed the murder years before, the murderer attempts to drive his wife mad so that he might gain access to the upper story of the house and search for the jewels unmolested. Fortunately, however, the agile-witted detective steps in to catch the murderer and solve the mystery of the old mansion on Angel Street.

Third and final dramatic production of the year was "The Rainmaker" by N. Richard Nash. It was presented April 28 and 29.

"The Rainmaker" is the story of a drought-stricken family in Nebraska whose efforts to obtain a husband for the daughter of the family and to get rain bring them face-to-face with that provocative personality, the Rainmaker. From here on, life on the ranch is filled with a series of startling, yet pleasant, events.

This play, as the two previous ones, was directed and produced by Professor J. Richard Waite.

Student assemblies each Thursday morning at 11:00 were a highlight of the week for Church College students. At these programs students had a chance to perform and display their talents before an appreciative audience and their fellow students to appreciate and to enjoy what they did.

These weekly programs were an important means for the various racial groups at Church College to exchange cultural ideals and beliefs and thus to gain a better understanding of one another.

Special Visits

ACCREDITATION TEAM

The crowning event of the school year was undoubtedly the Church College's winning four-year accreditation from the Western Colleges Association. Achieving this objective means that the first four-year graduates of the Church College, the Class of 1961, graduated from a fully accredited institution.

President Richard T. Wootton and Dean of Instruction Kay J. Andersen spearheaded the accreditation effort; but it was the cooperative team effort of administration, faculty, and students working together that counted most.

B.Y.U. STUDENT BODY OFFICERS

The Thanksgiving-time visit of the student body officers of Brigham Young University provided Church College of Hawaii student body officers and students the opportunity to become acquainted with the leaders of our sister institution and to learn what their thinking was on different problems of student government. The visit served as a strengthening tie between the two schools; undoubtedly better understanding now exists.

MOST PREFERRED MAN—HERBERT "CHUBBY" KAOPUA

The theme "Kuuipo"—sweethearts—expresses the mood that was set for the Preference Ball on the evening of February 24. Through the ingenuity and hard work of the committee, the gymnasium was transformed into a scenic re-creation of old Hawaii.

Herbert Kaopua was named by women students as "Most Preferred Man" of the year. Second only to "Chubby" was Gerald Hekekie, and Vaughn Chong ranked close behind.

Honored also at the same time was Muriel Lee, Belle of the Ball, who was chosen by faculty members on her meritorious display of charm and good taste in dress and conduct.

You know, my mother would like you.

Mouth to mouth comes next. (!)

I really wouldn't care for any, thanks.

I knew I should have stayed home tonight.

Nothing can be done well or can endure long without the support of those engaged in the effort. Our Lei of Memories is no different; it owes its formation to the contribution of the hours and dollars of many—the students, faculty, friends, and supporters of The Church College of Hawaii.

As 1960-61 Na Hoa Pono editors, we have witnessed a marvelous transition from reams of confusion and variety comparable to a pack rat's Saturday night collection to a semblance of unity and organization capable of preserving memories of The Church College of Hawaii.

Every success has its makers and ingredients. Besides a vote of thanks to the manufacturers of mosquito punk, rubber cement, red licorice, and "twinkies," we are especially indebted to Glenn Adams and his camera—neither of which ever failed us—our adviser, Brother Ross Esplin, and the rest of the insomnia-addicted 2 o'clock staff.

Mr. Dean Ishihara of George-Dean Studios, and Mr. Burke, Mr. Raff, and Mr. Baker of the Star-Bulletin Printing Company also deserve our extended appreciation for their patience and cooperation.

Without the help of all of these people and many others, our "Lei of Memories" might still have been strung, but lying on the floor of Rm. 36.

Aloha and Best Wishes

Kathy and Darlene

WE do not know anything about our own resources until we have taught ourselves to stand alone. Not until we can think for ourselves, decide for ourselves, and act for ourselves do we become more than infants in the moral universe.
